Have you bought the green tag yet?

Bean prices are up a little. It is welcome news to Lake Region growers.

A week nearly gone in the second month of the year. Have you planned to write it 1937?

Building continues in the area around Lake Okechobee. More new homes being erected. Builders' houses being remodeled. All going to prove that this section is steadily forging ahead.

Governor Cose states that "two-job men" must go. That is probably pretty tough on some of the boys who have been on the state payroll, drawing a "check each month and not having to exert any extra energy to qualify for the stipend."

The second issue of "Florida Front Page" is on our exchange desk. It is an interesting read and contains and succinctly tells of state happenings. All articles are interestingly written and the editor doesn't mind words in telling of state expenditures.

Governor Cose and his budget board seem to be having a little trouble making their figures coincide. The governor says "no extra taxes." The board is inclined to forward to spend an extra four million. Puzzle: From where is it to come?

A news story from Tallahassee says that J. H. Tharrell of Ocala has been appointed director of the State Milk Control board. From expressions of many legislators throughout the state there may be 10 milk control board for the next session of the legislature.

Residents of the Lake Region will be glad to know that immediate action is to be taken by the State Highway department to remedy the hazardous situation in which now exists on Road 25 between Belle Glade and Twenty Mile Bend. Plans for widening and repaving are nearly complete and bids will be called for within a few days.

Glades residents don't forget! They remember the devastating hurricanes of 1926 and 1928 and the immediate aid rendered by the Red Cross. So, when the call comes for money for the flood relief fund, don't forget to contribute. The amount of cash sent from the "Glades of Lake Okechobee" to the Red Cross is a credit to the "Glades of Lake Okechobee" region. Your cooperation is greatly appreciated by the boys who are doing this work.

Hon. William D. Upshaw, former congressman of Georgia, widely known lecturer and evangelist, is to appear in the pulpit of the First Baptist church in Belle Glade for two weeks starting Sunday night. If you have never heard Mr. Upshaw, he will advise you to hear him during his stay in the Lake Region. He is an able and forceful speaker and will bring many interesting and educational evangelistic sermons during his stay here.

Brooks Balfanz, new member of the State Highway Board, says that it takes a great deal of time to take care for the roads and those in his district. Mr. Balfanz has made a favorable impression on those he has met in the district and is going about his new job in a businesslike manner. He has promised this section on Road 25 and other members of the board are co-operating with him in remedying the situation which has caused many deaths during the past year or two.

More than half the area of the Republic of Panama is unincorporated.

After eight months Kentucky has returned itself on the luxury tax.

Eight months ago, Governor A. C. Chandler went before the legislature and asked for the tax on cigars, chewing gum, soft drinks, ice cream, nuts and cosmetics. The legislature passed the bill.

Recently Governor Chandler asked the legislature to repeal the tax. "It has not been popular," he said. The legislature did repeal it by unanimous vote.

So-called luxury taxes are not popular. In this country we have come to recognize the right of the masses to enjoy the little luxuries that are sold for nickels and dimes. Out of their earnings the people can afford some of them and when extra pennies are added there are bitter complaints from all sides.

The luxury tax is not popular. We in Florida, will do well to profit by Kentucky's experience—Tallahassee Democrat.

That reliable report "I told you so" is getting a "triple" workout these days on the beach. Apartment and hotel owners who were told by the natives last season that exorbitant prices would bring a heavy toll of lost customers are beginning to find their counselors were right.

Said one manager of a magnificent beach structure yesterday: "Customers I had last winter have gone home and told tales of prices down here and now I know of three of them that are stopping over in Miami—and several more that are staying in Tampa and St. Petersburg. I hated to have to be added to the teeth to be cut out but there's a limit—beyond which you can't push prices without cutting your own throat."—Miami Herald.

There are signs that this legislation, the first time since 1929, will begin to get back in tax collection laws the teeth which were gnawed during the depression.

If the state of Florida could determine how much money it has coming from delinquent real estate taxes, and then insist that it be collected, the state, the counties and the schools would have all the money they need without extra revenue.

Nearly all the big tax dodgers have wanted some kind of compromise settlement in the last few years, and as the pressure groups that control so much of our law-making will not longer oppose efforts to close up the loopholes in Florida's tax net. Most of the big fish already have escaped.—Miami Herald.

TOWN AND COUNTRY COOPERATION

Both farmers and merchants benefit from mutual understanding and cooperation. Lack of understanding and cooperation encourages antipathy and advice.

An article in the "Florida Farmer" suggests the establishment of community improvement committees composed of both city and farm residents of both sides. The writer of this article says:

"While teaching in a small rural school recently, I sat in a small room and watched a merchant render real service to his farmer patrons. He ordered the best available poultry feeds for them. He bought their eggs by reference to daily market quotations furnished by the state marketing service. In real, friendly way, his farmer customers, he offered valuable criticism and suggestions. This man, by keeping himself abreast of the market, rendered a real service to his community. He realized that his future success depended on those who traded with him. He not only provided farm equipment and other supplies of superior quality, but arranged to have the daily production of his surrounding farmers and send by truck to distant markets so as to secure highest prices for fresh eggs."

"In some towns local citizens have formed helpful committees for serving farm producers. Some have contacted distant markets and shipped by consignment to reputable wholesale dealers. Others have effected direct sales through competitive bidding in auction sales, members of the board of trade bidding in competition with purchases from other places. This has generally brought about higher prices for farm products and a more satisfied understanding between producer and buyer."

"In conclusion, it appears that the farmer who understands the market and the overall farmer should consider first and last the welfare of the whole community, rural and

COMFORT, CONVENIENCE, BEAUTY NECESSARY TO FARM LIFE IN FLORIDA

"It is impossible to impress upon anyone that there is dignity in residing upon a farm with its impoverished soil, dilapidated buildings, and an environment of ignorance." Thus spoke Dr. Sherman A. Knapp, founder of agricultural extension work in the United States, showing his appreciation of the values of good homes which adorn fertile farms.

Dr. Knapp maintained, as do leaders in the agricultural field today, that the maintenance of a fine type of citizenry in rural homes is an essential factor in good government. Satisfying home life in rural areas is essential to both state and national wellbeing.

Good housing is invaluable from a social standpoint, as well as providing comfortable facilities for the family. Every home should offer the background environment for most favorable development of its individual family members. By so doing, it gives strength to the group, in the farm home, group activities still remain a part of the home life. Group activities demand adjustment, and it is from adjustments made in family life that the foundations for adjustments in community and national life are built.

Comfort is as essential to satisfying home life in rural districts as it is elsewhere. Among the things which help to make comfortable places in which to live are homes with light, warm floors and walls which protect from sun, wind and storm; heat for cold weather; ample space in which to live, eat and sleep; good light, both natural and artificial, by which to read, work and play; running water, storage space, provision for privacy, convenient toilet facilities, and numerous other things.

To obtain improvements in the farm home it is necessary for the farm family to work together and to plan their production and harvesting so that needed funds will become available. Then all members of the family must have a part in the actual work of remodeling, rebuilding, or otherwise improving the home.

Florida's crops of home demonstration encourage rural families to have better houses, and to manage the home along more up-to-date lines. They aid rural families not so that needed funds will become available. Then all members of the family must have a part in the actual work of remodeling, rebuilding, or otherwise improving the home.

Elephants which have died a natural death are never found in the regions where they live in a wild state. Where they go to die is a question which has puzzled scientists for years.

Millions Spent In Florida During 1936 By U. S.

Relief and Work Totals
Amount to Nearly Forty
Million in Year

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 4. The federal government spent $39,453,107 in Florida during 1936 to provide relief and work relief, Walter Hawkins, state director for the National Emergency Council announced yesterday.

Director Hawkins said he based his announcement on an official report by President Roosevelt to congress regarding expenditures under the Emergency Relief Appropriations Acts of 1935, and 1936.

From April 8, 1935, to December 31, 1936, expenditures by the Works Progress Administration in Florida amounted to $60,841,233. During the same period, the total allocations by the president to this state was $73,919,960.

The federal works program in Florida engaged 43,514 persons during the week ending December 12, 1936, according to Mr. Hawkins, who said 26,098 were employed by the FWA, 6,828 by the CCC, and 10,608 by other federal agencies.

The $60,841,233 expended in the works program was for the following general types of work: Highways, roads and streets, $9,500,895; public buildings, $4,453,734; housing projects, $1,223,283; public recreational facilities, $2,037,384; conservation work, $8,250,462; electric, water and sewage systems, $2,316,000; transportation facilities, $10,226,969; educational projects, $3,840,690; miscellaneous projects, $3,779,708; administrative expenses, $1,916,822; rural resettlement and direct relief, $1,739,328, and grants to

TYPICAL PRODUCTS AND SERVICES AFFECTED BY AUTOMOTIVE INDUSTRY.

It is estimated that 6,000,000 workers—one out of every seven employed in the United States—own his job directly or indirectly to the automobile industry. The above chart shows the activities chiefly affected, but does not show how vital a part motor manufacture plays in many of these fields. For example, 10% of all cotton raised in the south, 22% of all steel manufacture, 25% of nickel, 25% of lead and even 75% of all plate glass manufacture go into automobiles. Railroad carloadings total 2,500,000 in hauling raw materials, parts, etc., for automobiles, of which since 1936 more than 40% have been manufactured by General Motors. Of course railroads have hauled finished cars.

The expenditures, classified by object of expenditure, reveal that $23,225,946 was spent for personal services; $6,275,885 for supplies and materials; $550,740 for rent; $7,941,679 for construction, maintenance and repair, and $13,510,061 in grants mainly for direct relief. In addition $189,243 was spent in the purchase of land; $1,678,422 was loaned and smaller amounts were expended in the purchase of equipment and in the payment of employees' accident compensation.

In the United States and its territories the cost of financing the Works Program from April through December, 1936, amounted to $1,672,394,206, and during the calendar year 1936 $3,310,821,141.

Canal Point P.-T.A. In Meeting Monday

The regular monthly meeting of the Canal Point Parent-Teacher association was held Monday night at the school auditorium with excellent attendance. More than 60 were present for the program which was given under the direction of Miss Ruth Royal, one of the school instructors.

Paul Rardin spoke to the gathering and used for his subject: "Florida's Educational Necessities." He pointed out that teachers performing a great service to society, are inadequately paid in comparison with those whose services are of doubtful nature. For example he quoted and compared the salaries of the following officials: the dean of Florida University $341.66 a month and the official who checks beer and whisky sales $100 per month. Florida's governor $625 per month and the state's racing superintendent $780 per month. A professor of science who has a degree of philosophy $183.33 and a cashier and stamp clerk of beer and whisky department without a degree $200.

Following the close of the program Rev. G. E. Bennett conducted the business session of the organization at which plans were made to raise money. After the business meeting the crowd adjourned to the dining hall where a great birthday cake, cooked in honor of P. T. A.'s birthday, was cut and served with punch.

come up for consideration before a number of state legislatures in the next few months providing taking away the licenses of those who are not mentally or morally equipped to drive an automobile with safety or who, under its enforcement, are found later to be incompetent drivers.

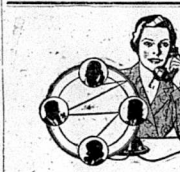

Some of the chief advantages of the law are:

1. Its effect has been to reduce accidents and injuries, and save lives.
2. It puts a premium on competence and skill in driving and provides an effective means for removing the incompetent or dangerous drivers from the road.

License Law Would Make Roads Safer

Statistics show that a considerable part of accidents of motor vehicle traffic can be avoided and that the mechanism of the standard drivers' license law, as sponsored by the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety, the National Safety Council and many national associations and groups, goes far in reducing the element of carelessness and recklessness.

The standard law which will

To Make NEW FRIENDS AND Keep THE OLD

Your telephone is a means of quick personal contact with those friends and relatives whom you do not visit as often as you would like, especially those who live in other cities.

More and more people who are separated by distances are using "long distance" telephone service to keep friendships alive and to maintain family ties. The relief from anxiety and the pleasure of hearing a friendly, cheerful voice, gives satisfaction and value which are almost priceless.

Yet the cost of a telephone conversation between friends or relatives who are miles apart is surprisingly low. You get an idea of the low cost of "long distance" from the lists of cities and rates which you will find in the front section of your telephone directory.

If the town you wish to call is not listed in the front of your telephone directory, just ask your "long distance" operator. She will gladly quote rates to any point.

Surprise! Famous dramatic surprise, romantic secrets are revealed and tangled lives set straight when the Country Doctor's 3,000 grown-up "babies" come back to share their joys and tears with the man who brought them into the world in "Reunion." Twentieth Century-Fox's latest screen triumph, coming to the Belle Glade theatre Sunday and Monday.

The picture which stars the world famous Dionne Quints and features Jean Harlow, Rochelle Hudson, Helen Vinson, Slim Summerville, Robert Kent, John Qualen, Dorothy Peterson and many other players, least the year's most important cast in the season's most unusual drama. Jean Harlow, William Powell, Myrna Loy—Spencer Tracy all in one picture! There's a collection of outstanding names each of which is capable of ruling a million picture clats in his or her own right. Only once in a movie-moon is such a stellar aggregation of stars gathered together for one production. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has assembled them for its extravagant production of "Labeled Lady," the new season "special" which comes to the Prince theatre in Pahokee on Sunday, and Monday.

It is a well known fact that when a film company loads four of its greatest personalities into one picture, that picture has what it takes. "Grand Hotel" and "Dinner at Eight" are outstanding examples of star-studded hits of the past. Now comes "Labeled Lady," engrossing story of an heiress slandered by a metropolitan newspaper and suing for libel to the tune of five million dollars! The move involved four principals—the heiress, the newspaper's managing editor, the girl whom he is pledged to marry, and a very clever gentleman of the Lothario school who has achieved a unique reputation for his unrivaled ability to quash just such libel suits.

County Fair at West Palm Beach Opens First of the Week

Everything will be in readiness for the grand opening of the newly organized Palm Beach County Agricultural Fair and Exposition on Monday, February 8, on the old county fairgrounds on Belvedere road in West Palm Beach. Large tents are being erected to house the big display of exhibits that have been entered for the hundreds of dollars that is being offered for outstanding exhibits and an army of carpenters are busy building various booths in all exhibit tents. All indications point to one of the most successful fairs ever staged in West Palm Beach and no effort or expense has been spared by the new officers to make it a huge success from the start.

Former King Edward of England held four different titles during epochal 1936: Prince of Wales, King Edward VIII, Prince Edward of Windsor and Duke of Windsor.

* The Prince of Wales theater in London, a buffoon show, is to be rebuilt at a cost of nearly $2,000,000. It will be wired for television and broadcasting.
